Europe Expresses Surprise, Dismay

LONDON (AP) — The news that John Foster Dulles has cancer sent surprise and dismay through Western European capitals Saturday night.

Statesmen suddenly contemplated the prospect of dealing with a new U.S. secretary of state — and possibly one with different views - at a time when Western Europe faces grave issues.

In West Germany, particularly, there was foreboding that Dulles' disappearance from the diplomatic scene might lose Chancellor Konrad Adenauer a strong ally. Bonn officials were reported

THE WOMAN BEHIND THE IDEA

Behind the story of "Operation Help," told in the accompanying dispatch, is an imaginative mother and writer who has devoted most of her life to the complex problems of children and parents who misunderstand each other.

She is Mrs. Muriel Lawrence (right), who has been writing about those problems for NEA Service since 1951. Her column, "The Mature Parent," appears in The Journal Courier, and hundreds of other newspapers cross the nation.

Mrs. Lawrence first put forth the "Operation Help" idea in a series of columns in 1955 Why have community agencies she reasoned, that help a youngster only after he becomes a delinquent? Why not community helping hand when he first starts on the road to trouble?

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK - (NEA) - Blasting Maurice Podoloff in Boston the other day, Walter A. Brown offered to give up the Celtics' first draft choice in an effort to balance the National Basketball Association.

Balancing the league is a grand idea, but it makes too much sense in professional sports, for it has never been seriously attempted in any line - football, baseball or basketball, So, the . and in baseball look what the sustained

Pro basketball has an even graver problem than the American League. The NBA has two sets of Yankees - the St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division and the Celtics in the Eastern. That leaves the competition negligible in both groups. The Hawks and Celtics each won by eight games last season. This year they figure to prevail by 12. with the Division titles settled three weeks before the season's end.

PRESIDENT BROWN OF THE Celtics took a swipe at Podoloff for permitting the lowly Cincinnati Royals to trade Si Green to the Hawks for Med Park and promising Jack Stephans, now in the Army. He was particularly riled because a pre-season swap between the same outfits gave the all-conquering Hawks the established and towering Clyde Lovellette, who got off the bench long enough to score 30 points for them in Syracuse the other Podoloff hasn't the power to stop trades, although he did muster sufficient courage to prevent the New York Knickerbockers from buydisbanded in 1950. Oddly enough, that led to the Celtics landing Easy Ed Macauley, now coaching the Hawks.

Inasmuch as they deny President Podoloff supreme authority, the owners are unfair when they criticize the little fellow doing the best he can under the circumstances.

Professional leagues are going to be in trouble until they name solid men at their heads and place them beyond the reach of the employers. See what has transpired in baseball since the commissioner's office was emasculated with the passing of Judge Kenesaw

HAPPY CHANDLER BELIEVER he had the authority, but you know what happened to the governor when he moved to exert It. On more than one occasion, Ford C. Frick has been made to look rather ridiculous attempting to define his duties.

Bert Bell of the National Football League comes closest to being a czar, and only because he is well-to-do, getting old and in poor health. Bell simply tells his owners that if they don't like what he is doing, it is perfectly all right with him if they get someone else. They

It is highly significant that since Bell started running the works, the National Football League has been by far the most successful of all professional federations

That would be a lesson to most big business concerns, but unti Bert Bell took over pro football, professional leagues had to be hit by something like the Black Sox scandal before anything was done about

Russia has presented to the conferees a list of seven issues which it insists a nuclear control commission should have to agree upon unanimously. A veto by either Russia, Britain or

The practical meaning of this is that the procedures proposed for policing a test ban could be hamstrung at every important stage.

The Kremlin wants a veto over the hiring and firing of any technician needed to operate the detection system.

It wants to right to say "no" on the sending of inspection teams to investigate possible sneak explosions reported by the network of detection stations.

It wants the privilege of barring any action by the control commission ger news, and seldom have caught based on findings of inspection teams.

And it wants the chance to block the making of any accusation by the commission that a nation has violated the ban-or has even obstructed the commission's operations.

With the memory of Russia's tens of vetoes in the United Nations still fresh, with the long record of armistice violations by the Communists in North Korea an equally forceful reminder, how can we imagine that anything but total obstruction and subversion of a test ban plan would follow if the veto

The Kremlin's veto proposition is a device either to kill the Geneva talks outright or to produce a completely unenforceable and hence useless nuclear test ban.

ADMISSION DETAILS FOR THE

FOODS WITH A COOKING

TO BE HELD TUESDAY, MARCH 3 THROUGH FRIDAY, MARCH 6 7:30 P.M. J.H.S. AUDITORIUM

In order to assure a seat for everyone attending the school and to avoid overcrowding in the entrance, admission to the school will be by ticket only. By purchasing a ticket a housewife will be able to get to the school shortly before 7:30 each evening and be sure of a seat.

Tickets for each day will be 10c per day. All money collected will be contributed to Miss Milligan's class for the physically handicapped. The Jacksonville Journal-Courier company does not profit from this ticket plan but is adopting it for the benefit of all who wish to attend the cooking school.

Tickets are available by mail now. If you wish to order your Cooking School tickets by mail send ten cents for each session you wish to attend. Be sure to designate which days you wish and give your name and address so the tickets can be mailed to you. Also please enclose an additional 5c for postage and handling. (Example: if you wish tickets for all four days send 45c — if you wish tickets for the first day only send 15c and designate Tuesday as the day you plan to attend.) Mail application for tickets to "Cooking School Editor," Journal-Courier Co., Jacksonville, III.

Tickets will go on sale at the Jacksonville Journal-Courier company office Monday, February 23rd at 8 a.m. Sale of tickets will continue until all the tickets have been sold. (NOTE: The sale of tickets at the Jacksonville Journal-Courier company office begins one week BEFORE the school starts).

Don't delay — send for your tickets now . . . or plan to purchase them during the week beginning Monday (February 23rd) at the Jacksonville Journal-Courier company office. No phone orders accepted.

PLEASE NOTE: Purchase of a ticket is only for a seat in the auditorium during the cooking school sessions. Anyone, whether they attend the school or not, may register for gifts in the lobby of the JHS Auditorium during or just before the school sessions each day. An individual does not have to be present to receive a cooking school gift.
